

Manual Test Plan

Start off by going to any file page

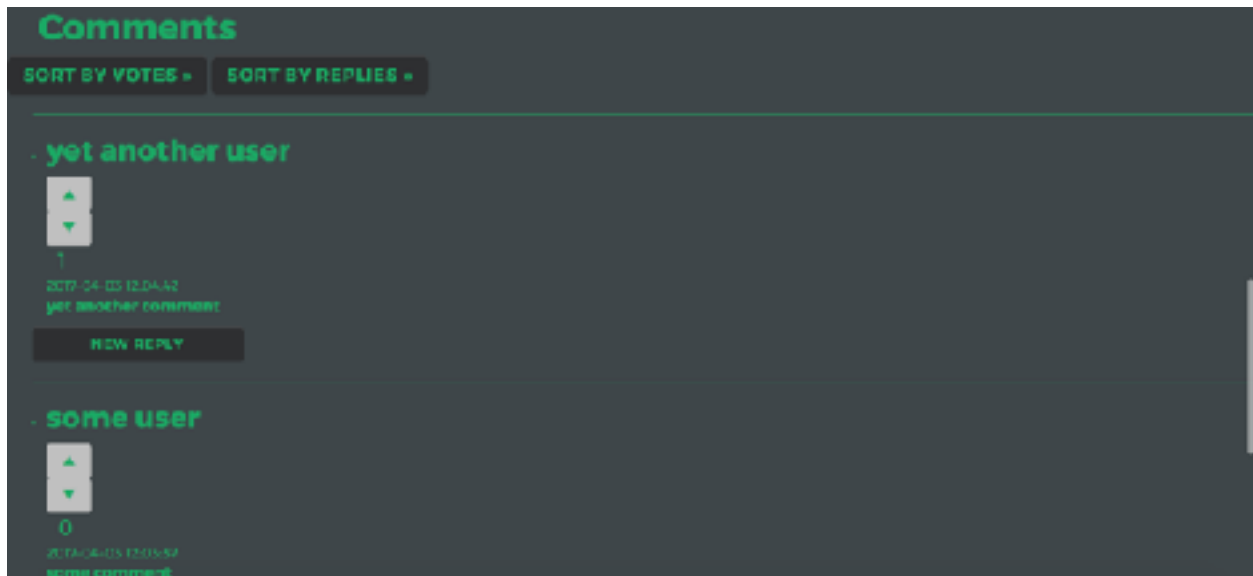

Then, add a new comment

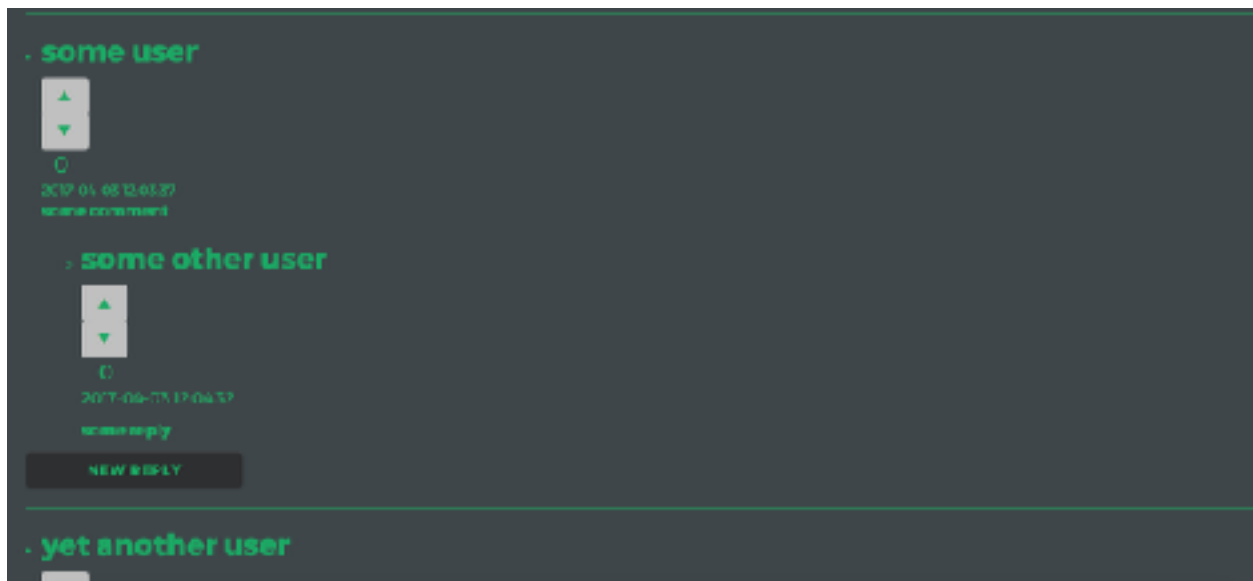

Now, add a reply

Add another comment. Now up vote this comment and notice that it goes above the previous one automatically.

Now click on the sort by replies button, and the first comment should come back to the top, since it has a reply.

You can test that this same functionality works with replies. For example, if I add another reply to the first comment and then up vote it, this is what happens
